The Haley-Utley Genealogy, sometimes called, The Yarmouth Genealogy. Compiled by Hon. Allen Haley M.P. at Windsor N. S. 1896. Only the Utley half of the genealogy is given here. The complete genealogy consists of about a dozen pages of printed matter. Later a one page supplement was issued. The supplement is not dated. The Haley-Utley Genealogy is the only genealogy of the Utley family of Scituate Mass., to 1922, ever published.

UTLEY FAMILY.

The name of the first American ancestor of the family I have never been able to trace. After a thorough search through the town records of Windham, Saybrook, Lyme, and other places in Connecticut, I have collected the appended pedigrees. The names would suggest Puritan stock, and I hope some day to trace the family back to the seventeenth century, and from there across the Atlantic and locate the family in Great Britain. The only information I had when I commenced was that Jonathan Utley was at Yarmouth in 1785, unmarried; and that some years after Nathan Utley was asking for lands of non-residents to be apportioned him. In the aforesaid pedigree it will be seen that Jonathan was Nathan's brother, and that he returned to Connecticut in 1766. This Nathan Utley married a sister of Phineas Durkee (as his first wife), and followed his brother-in-law to Yarmouth. It is needless to mention that Phineas Durkee was the ancestor of all who bear the name in this County.

James Utley Married Anna _____, on _____, 1720.

Note;- It will be observed that Mr. Haley gives the date of birth of Sarah, daughter of Jeremiah Utley, as October 15, 1746. If this was correct, Jeremiah, and his wife Mary, exceeded the speed limit and were having children at the rate of every five months. This error has been copied many times by Utleys who have traced their ancestors back through Jeremiah to Samuel of Scituate, Mass. In 1921 the author of "Ancestors and Descendants of Hamilton Utley, Squire and Schoolmaster, of Newbury Ohio," received information which fixes the date, Oct. 15, 1745.
